HYBRID WORKING COMES WITH INCREASED SECURITY RISKS

You need to balance user preference with central I.T. control.

Users want devices that enable them to do their best work wherever and whenever they need to, while I.T. equires visibility, performance, manageability and heightened security across the entire estate.

BUILT TO HELP TALENT THRIVE

Great technology enables your people to do their best work.

It helps your business retain and attract the talent it needs and drives innovation. It also boosts your employees ability to work anywhere they want to and be part of your teams wherever each individual is based.

BUILT FOR WHAT I.T. NEEDS AND WHAT USERS WANT

The Intel Evo vPro platform is the best thin and light laptop experience for business.¹

Computacenter works with you to deploy and manage the right devices for your people at the best price. The partnership between Computacenter and Intel means that your people can work the way they want to work, wherever they are, and achieve their full potential.

¹ In thin & light Windows-based devices, based on 1) unique features and performance testing on industry benchmarks and Representative Usage Guides across 3 key usages: productivity, creation, and collaboration, comparing Intel® Core™ vPro® i7-1185G7 to AMD Ryzen™ 7 Pro 4750U and 2) an IDActive study (commissioned by Intel) comparing Intel® Hardware Shield security capabilities on 11th Gen Intel® Core™ vPro® processors with corresponding competitor technologies. All testing as of December 2020.
